Mangatainoka River

The Mangatainoka River has its source in the eastern Tararua Ranges and parallels SH2 flowing in a north-easterly direction toward Pahiatua. It has about 50km of fishable water with numerous roads leading to the river off SH2, where anglers will discover the amazing number of bridges (13) crossing it, allowing easy access to most of the river. The upper reaches at Putara are excellent early in the season with tantalising clear, deep pools and boulder runs. Following the onset of warm temperatures most of the trout drop back downstream.

The middle and lower reaches are mostly willow lined, similar in character along these stretches, with long pools and glides interspersed with shallow riffles. When the water temperature in the main stem Manawatu River rises and flow drops, trout move into the lower Mangatainoka in numbers. Excellent fishing can be had from the confluence up to Pahiatua township.

ATTENTION ANGLERS

Sections of riverbed covered by this pamphlet may be in private ownership, which means anglers do not necessarily have a right of access. Some landowners may have agreed to anglers having access along the riverbed without having to obtain permission first.

Please respect the privilege of access. Once you are on the river, stay within the riverbed and do not wander on to adjacent farmland without the express permission of the landowner. If you require clarification around where you are legally entitled to go, please visit the Walking Access Commission website - www.wams.org.nz - and use the public access layers.

Conditions of access are:

- NO dogs. NO camping. NO fires. NO vehicles on the riverbed.
- Leave gates as you find them.

Please Note:

Fish & Game has endeavoured to show where legal public access exists to and along this river. Because of a variety of factors beyond our control, this is a guideline only. The onus of avoiding trespassing on private land rests with the angler and, where doubt arises, landowner permission should be sought. If any difficulty occurs through the use of this information, please contact Wellington Fish & Game.
