Survey of West Coast game bird licence holders, October 2019.

1) Regulations. The only proposed change to the West Coast gamebird regulations is to allow adult licence holders directly supervising junior licence holders to shoot during the nine-day junior Paradise shelduck/Pukeko season held in March. Currently only junior licence holders can shoot and those without a firearms licence need an adult firearms licence holder to be directly supervising them. This will increase hunting opportunities for adult licence holders willing to supervise junior hunters. The daily bag limit of five Paradise shelduck and five Pukeko remains the same for the junior season.
