

TURNING THE TIDE

for our wild sea-run salmon

Salmon numbers are falling and action is needed to stop the decline.

Fish & Game is holding a two day symposium so concerned anglers can offer their views and hear the latest information from overseas and New Zealand experts about what is affecting our treasured salmon.

The fishery is in anglers' hands - register now to get your ticket for the symposium and be part of the solution.

Go to fishandgame.org.nz for ticketing information and registration.
