HABITAT GRANT APPLICATION FORM

REFEREE'S REPORT:

A report on your project by a referee independent of the agency making the application is required – where the applicant is a Fish and Game Council it is required that the referee is someone outside of that Council. It is suggested a referee be a field officer from your local Fish and Game region or another approved independent source like the Department of Conservation or your regional council. If you would like to ask someone other than a Fish and Game Officer to be your referee it needs to be a person who has sufficient knowledge of you or the applicant group, and the type of project being undertaken.

The form referees need to complete is available as a separate document. The Trust Board relies on the referee's report to gain an understanding of the project in the absence of being able to carry out inspections itself.

Prior to its final consideration of applications the Board may ask your referee or another independent referee for further information in terms of its criteria for considering applications.

The referee will also be asked to report to the Trust Board on progress with the project and sign off the authorisation for the Board to make any payments.

Priorities for Grants

NB: In its initial consideration of grant applications, the Trust Board will assess priorities as follows:

- 1 Game bird habitat with hunting opportunities on public land or private land with a high level of secured long term protection (for example, QEII Covenant, Conservation or Game Bird Habitat Enhancement Agreement to protect private land).
- 2 Game bird habitat only (without hunting opportunities) on public land or private land with secured protection (for example, QEII Covenant, Conservation or Game Bird Habitat Enhancement Agreement to protect private land).
- 3 Significant game bird habitat with, or without, hunting opportunities on private land which does not have secured protection.

Applications are to be returned by 15 June to:

New Zealand Game Bird Habitat Trust Board,
PO Box 13141, Wellington 6440.
